

Bol Balika

BoL Balika is an application layer protocol that facilitates communication in the form of text. The chat process works on a client/server networking model. These clients communicate with chat servers to transfer messages to other clients

Interaction of women with technology

Bol Balika is mainly designed for group communication in discussion forums, called channels.

This is basically a self help group implementation where women share their problems via a chat forum/server in the presence of a moderator/counsellor.

Basic Idea.

It provide a transparent feedback system for the government which tells to what extent the Bhamashah Yojana is reaching out and how successful it is so that more plans for the betterment can be implemented timely.

How it helps ?

Problems when categorized by area and type can be solved much fast and effectively the moderator can help the women by making them aware of the rights/solution to their specific problem. Multiple minds working at providing a solution is better and faster method to tackle the problem.

How it works ?

- Chatting channels are created which allows communication of affected women and a team of counselors.
- Channels are problem as well as area specific i.e every woman who faces a certain problem will be connected to other women facing the same problem who are also living in the same ward.

Contd.

- Heat maps will be formed for every specific problem which will indicate the no. of cases of affected women for each problem in that area respectively.
- Counselors are trained professionals who are guide affected to a certain solution effectively.

- Also, by talking/sharing their problems freely the women will not feel alienated and a sense of belongingness can be found which strengthens the mindset of individual women.
  - By better communication among the women themselves, better conditions can be developed for every woman to grow as a unit.
